The NPC Mississippi Championships offers a unique assembly of gym owners and a wide variety of sports/fitness fans who are dedicated to a fitness lifestyle. As well as bystanders who are interested in the sport and people there to watch the friend or family member compete.

SANCTIONING BODY: The National Physique Committee (NPC) is the largest amateur bodybuilding organization in the United States with over 10,000 registered athletes. Athletes compete in various competitions from local to national competitions sanctioned by the NPC. One amateur organization per country is recognized by the International Federation of Bodybuilders (IFBB), bodybuilding's international professional organization, and the IFBB recognizes the NPC as its amateur extension for the United States. In order to become an IFBB professional in the United States you must first win a class at an NPC national level competition.
